Put a doctor in their pocket

Quick, convenient access to medical advice with a virtual doctor service.

With unlimited phone and video consultations, customers can get in touch with a doctor who speaks their language – at a time and place that suits them.

Support and advice are just a video call away. Speak to your AXA representative today for more information.

Our virtual doctor service is available to individual and SME clients with out-patient cover as part of their plan, and is currently only available on plans arranged in Europe. The service is available as an optional upgrade on most of our corporate policies. Please speak to your AXA representative for further details on eligibility.
